

Happy 2009 from all at Yr Harbwr. Everybody tells me that this is the worst time ever for pubs. With the smoking ban and cheap supermarket booze coupled that we have had some rubbish weather over both Summers it has been hard over the last 20 months Karen and I have been here. But with good staff we have coped well and on the law of averages we must be due a good Summer this year. We feel now that we have made all the major changes we need to for a while and now we can start to upgrade quietly but steadily. We have started redecorating rooms and we are hoping for huge discounts in the January Sales on digital TVs for the rooms ready for the Summer. Looking at 2008 the beer was about the same as 2007 but the food, both Bistro and Bar Meals saw huge increases. Our 2 chefs Dave and Gethin have been working on a new Bar Menu with a wider variety available at lunchtimes, as well as a step up of the A La Carte menu available in the Bistro in the evenings trying to use as much local produce as possible. A huge success recently has been the inclusion of mussels "buckets" on the daily specials, we have been offering choices of mussels in garlic, chilli or guinness and have also experimented with Thai flavours. If they are popular now they should be a huge seller for us come the busier times. These are strange times and January is traditionally quiet but we are trying to put as much energy as possible into the business even now. Check out the Events Diary and please feel free to drop in see the changes and ask for menus - Jamie
